THE STATESBORO NEWS.

(INCORPORATED.)

Statesboro, Ga. Nov. 10, 1903.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays by THE STATESBORO NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Entered a Statesboro Ga. Post Office a 2d class mail matter.

Hanna is now the supreme boss of the county.

Bullock will take the cake at the Savannah fair.

Bullock has no millionaires, but plenty of excellent farmers.

The exhibit from Bullock is one of the big attractions at the Savannah fair.

The Statesboro News has a special exhibit at the Savannah fair, and you will see it when you go down.

Dowie has left New York and returned to Zion city. He failed on the Yorkers.

Our neighbors are complimenting us on our recent fair edition of the News.

Bullock is to have no public roads for some time to come. We will never have good roads, until the people see the necessity of them.

Hearst, Gorman, and McClellan, all seem to be in the way of the Cleveland worshippers.

We are glad that Tammany cleaned up such Democratic papers as the New York World and others. Hearst owns the only Democratic paper in that city.

The Grafters will get in their work at the Savannah Fair and the Augusta re-union, and we advise the uncle Reubens to be very careful.

Congress met yesterday, and no doubt the trusts and financial magnates are glad to see so many of their friends together again.

Hanna and his harrel, and Roosevelt and his nigger, are having their day. It is strange how people can be gulled, but they say a sucker is born every minute.

The Republic of Panama has been born. It came from Columbia, and the people have set up a separate government, which has been recognized by the U. S. They are preparing to be the beneficiaries of the millions we are going to pay for the Panama canal.

Your debts like your sins will find you out, and the best plan is to pay up.

The careless man usually lands in the poor house.

Millen rejoices in a good News, paper and a big cotton factory.

The Swainsboro papers have consolidated under the name of The Forest-Blade, and Messrs. Tison & Boatright now have one of the best weeklies in the state.

A few of the worshippers still insist that Cleveland is the only man in the Democratic party. They take their cue from the New York World which supported the Republican Low in that city. Cleveland seems to be popular with that class of Democrats who occasionally vote the Democratic ticket, but most generally the Republican ticket.

The ice factory has quit business for the season, but has some on hand to sell. The weather puts the ice men out of business, but the grocery bills go right on.

Now is the season when people buy and sell lands.

Everybody is going to the fair on Bullock day.

The cold weather will soon be on hand, and pork and sassafras will be on the bill of fare.

Hearst, Not Gorman Deserves Honor

L. R. Larner, special correspondent for the Savannah News in Washington announces that "among Democratic senators and representatives who have arrived in Washington to attend the extra session of Congress, there seems to be but one opinion as to who shall be the presidential nominee of their party in the next campaign. In all of their calculations the name of Senator Gorman is used as the logical and most available candidate."

We have been watching for this and it came out just as we thought. The Republican-Democratic papers all over the South have been grooming for this grand opportunity and they are making the most of it. Gorman's anti-negro speeches in Maryland, President Roosevelt's second colored dining and a few other minor details have been worked into this political farce preparatory to the denouement and now the gallery jugglers are fanfaring out one encore after another in favor of this arch politician in order to capture for him the presidential nomination.

Mr. Gorman himself is the star actor in the play, for he does not "stand by the election polls till midnight, until the returns are in," presumably to guard off other aspiring satellites who might be waiting to capture the glory of the Democratic victory in Maryland? And then with dramatic fervor, he, the Don Quixote of a wind-mill victory, rushed off to Washington and there, standing on the dome of the capitol in the presence of those august senators and representatives who had arrived beforehand, ostensibly to attend the extra session, this ungilded bantam of the political pit, flapped his wings and crowed. Why all this gallery play of the Baltimore seion unless there be method in his madness? "This was Senator Gorman's brief comment today on the Democratic victory in his own state, in which he played such a conspicuous and effective part," says the correspondent in the same dispatch to the News and the senator's "brief comment" was, "I regard the result of yesterday's election in Maryland as a protest against any further radical action intended to disturb the business interests of the country."

Which means that "I, Arthur Pugh Gorman, am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president and I hereby pledge myself to Wall street and the trusts that if nominated and elected, I will not disturb the present Republican policy of government, except that wherein Roosevelt has been willful and troublesome to the aforesaid capitalists, I will be an easy thing and I promise to submit all my actions for their approval before said actions shall be put into execution."

It is strange indeed that those "senators and representatives who had arrived in Washington" did not see in the New York city election a far more significant political fact than was heralded from Maryland, and it is further strange that they did not look behind that New York election and see the man behind the results—the one man who elected McClellan mayor of that city over the greatest fusion force ever banded together—the man whose newspapers held fast to Democracy when every other sheet in that city fought for the Republican nominee—William Randolph Hearst.

It is strange, passing strange, how the Democratic politicians of the country are fighting Mr. Hearst while he himself is about the last bulwark of strength the Democratic party can muster throughout the North. Nearly every other newspaper of any strength in the doubtful states has gone Republican within the last few years except those owned by Mr. Hearst, and without these strong forces he has put into operation in the big centres, the Democratic party would be almost without representation, and yet the very men who are depending on these forces for their perpetuity in power, are knifing Mr. Hearst at every dark place in the road.

The victory in New York city means more far more to the Democratic party than the victory in Maryland, and Mr. Hearst did far more to bring about the victory in New York than did Gorman in Maryland and if there be any honors to bestow in consequence of either, Mr. Hearst deserves that honor.

But, of course, there was nothing but a farce to be expected of the Republican Democrats, and the people are yet to hear from—Waveross Journal.

Everything Sells.

We know how to raise cotton. The truth is, we depend too much on it. We forget that chickens and eggs will sell every day in the year and always bring a fair price, and yet the chickens are left to scratch for themselves, while we look after cotton. Pork and bacon always command good prices, yet the hogs are left to rot for themselves while we are trying to root out of debt by planting all cotton. When the Northern and Western farmer goes to market he carries produce to sell, and we go to town too often with an empty wagon and carry back bacon etc. A farmer will have to learn that he must sell more than he buys, before he gets ahead in the world.

The fellow who sits down and loafes during the winter and gives no attention to a compost heap, will have to depend on a little gunpow next year—and he will never succeed as a farmer.

Labor is getting scarce in this section of the country. Hundreds of negroes have left and gone to Florida and other southern places. The farmer who will take out the stumps and invest in some cultivators and harrows will be the successful one of the future.

The town has been very healthy this year and fever has been rare in the county.

The Best Remedy For Croup. (From the Acheson, Kan. Daily Globe) This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup remedies are almost sure to be lost, in a case of croup, as a revolver is sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup, known as live syring and told, but some modern mother says that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better, and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm," quick and gives relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by All Druggists.

Ten Pound Potato From Bulloch County.

Art Studios Also Shown In Booth of Statesboro News.

The Bulloch county display is complete and it is one of the finest at the fair. There are more than 400 different specimens and among them are some of the giant products of Bulloch county. Especial attention was attracted to the ten-pound potato exhibit. There are several of these phenomenal growths shown many who look at them were skeptical as to their genuineness. When closely examined, however, they are clearly seen to be real potatoes and rank among the most remarkable specimens shown at the fair.

There are two very handsome specimens of quilt and counterpane work shown. One of them is 110 years old and the companion piece was made in 1854. The design of the quilt is the old square work, neatly stitched together with the beautiful and popular feather stitching. The exhibit is a most valuable one and of which special care is taken. The booth of the Statesboro News has been filled with several handsome scenes and several studies of water scenes. The pictures have been brought out in detail and make a very handsome addition to the Bulloch county exhibit. Here has also been placed an old spinning wheel, used in the early days of the county, and yesterday it attracted considerable attention.—Morning News.

The Public Roads.

The last grand jury failed to recommend the new road law, and also recommended that the county not take its share of the state convicts. Then the board of commissioners decided that it would not pay to attempt to work the roads with only a few county convicts, and so we will have no chaingang of any kind. It is now up to the people to work the roads under the old road system. We failed to do much when the county was full of negroes, and most of those negroes have followed the turpentine stills and saw mills to Florida and Alabama. But the people prefer the old system, and we trust they will proceed to make good roads. They have said that they do not want them made with convicts or by taxation, and the only other way to get them is to do the work by the people.

Bullock has about seven hundred miles of public roads, and some of them are so sandy that our mules can hardly haul one bale of cotton over them. Most of the progressive counties are laying their roads and one mile now hauls three bales of cotton over the same roads. In our judgment there is nothing that would help the farmers more than good roads. It doubles the value of farm lands, and decreases the cost of the animals and vehicles required. They save time and put people nearer to town, churches and schools. It would insure a rapid mail delivery, and add ten fold to the pleasures of country life. Now, mark it, that section of the county that first gets fine roads will be the most valuable part of the county.

BACK FROM AFRICA.

Negroes From Oella Who Went To The New Country.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Two negro men, three women and four children, gaunt, hollow-eyed and ragged, have arrived here from Europe, en route to their home in Oella, Ga., from Morrovia. They constitute a part of the survivors of a party of 56 Southern negroes who about a year ago were sent by a number of Southern philanthropists as an experiment in colonizing American negroes in Liberia.

Financial aid in the colonization scheme was furnished by the planters. It was hoped the growing of cotton would mark the success of the venture, as reports had shown the soil of Morrovia as adaptable to its growth.

Disaster after disaster followed the experiment. The natives were hostile and finally jungle fever broke out and wrought havoc among the colonists. Their provisions were depleted and they lived partly on native roots. The party which came back did so on funds furnished by their former employers in Georgia.—Savannah Press.

Hold your land and farm. It will never be worth less than it is to day.

You have only till Dec. 20, to pay your taxes. After that date, the tax collector will have to issue execution.

STATESBORO NEWS H S FINE EXHIBIT.

PROGRESSIVE BULLOCH COUNTY PAPER IN LINE AT FAIR.

Opposite the Bulloch county exhibit in the "manufactory" building, the Statesboro News has established a booth, where visitors to the fair will be made welcome. The booth is in charge of Mr. J. R. Miller, the publisher of the Statesboro News. It is tastefully fitted up and the visitors from Bulloch county will no doubt be proud of the excellent showing The News is making. Copies of the fair edition of the Statesboro News are on hand at the booth and are being given away. There is a handsome piano in the booth that the paper is going to give away to the most popular young lady in Bulloch county. Bulloch County's display at the fair is a very fine one. It will be in shape by tonight. Most of it is already in position.

Next Wednesday will be Bulloch County day at the fair and immense crowds from that and adjoining counties are coming to the fair on special excursion trains, all decorated. "The whole county is coming," Mr. Miller says.—Savannah Press.

Upsetting an Orator.

It is no easy matter to upset District Attorney Jerome in the midst of a harangue, but that cigarette incident nearly knocked him out, says a writer in the New York Press. It reminds me of the time when the "Tall Sycamore of the Wahash," Daniel W. Voorhees, was toppled over by a remark in the audience. When just at the perihelion of pathos a clear and deliberate voice spoke out behind him: "Guess he wouldn't talk so hifalutin if he knew his breeches was busted clean out behind." From that moment the great orator could not get on. The people in front began to laugh and there was a loud roar in his rear. He dared not reverse his position for fear of showing a new audience his condition. He "sawed blood," as the phrase goes, made a muddy excuse for delay and backed into a chair. When a chance came to examine his trousers he found there was nothing in the world the matter with them. The fellow had played a trick and spoiled the meeting.—Ex.
